

COMMENT

Maggie has shown improvements in her clinical skills since midterm. She has shown increased confidence in her ability to treat children of different ages and levels of impairment. She has shown increased variety and creativity in her treatment activities. She has improved her ability to